Terms and Conditions
Invoice Policy
We will issue two invoices for you:

Advance Payment: This must be paid before starting the work.
Final Payment: This must be cleared before uploading the website and all apps to the Google Developer account. We will proceed with the upload only after ensuring that everything is in order.
All invoices will be in Bangladeshi Taka (BDT). Our bank account details will be provided along with the invoice for payment purposes.

Scope of Work
All tasks will be completed as per our package.
[(Click here to see our package) https://www.taqwait.com/flutter-app-development]
Since this is a ready-made source code, the client must accept the features included in it. If any additional features are required, a full-stack developer must be hired separately.

Website Management
Upon completion of the website development, we will provide a full explanation to the client. Once the client understands the system, they may choose to manage the website independently or hire us for ongoing management services, which may involve a monthly charge as per mutual agreement.

Note: Website maintenance, product uploads, and necessary consultancy services are not included in this package.

Privacy Protection
Both parties agree that all information regarding this e-commerce development project shall remain confidential. No information may be shared outside the two parties involved. Employees of both parties will be informed about this non-disclosure clause to ensure compliance.

Client Responsibilities and Policies

The client must purchase all necessary code from CodeCanyon and provide the code along with a valid license before we commence work.
The client must provide all necessary access credentials, logos, icons, and images.
Magazihost Company may not use our software and licenses on multiple domains.
Magazihost Company may purchase the source code from us or any other provider. However, if purchasing from another company, they must provide our code along with a valid license.

Failure to comply with this condition may result in legal consequences for Magazihost Company.

We will only upload the apps on behalf of the client. Account maintenance is the sole responsibility of the client. If the Google Play Console account is suspended or an app is removed due to any policy violations, we will not be held responsible, as Google has its own policies.

For support policies and additional terms, please refer to the Taqwa IT Terms and Conditions.

We do not upload applications to an iOS Developer Account. However, we can configure the application. If the client requires an alternative upload method, additional charges may apply.

Update Policy

If future updates become available, the client may request an update through us. However, this will be a paid service.

Refund Policy

No refunds will be issued for website or app development services.

If Taqwa IT fails to resolve a bug-related issue, a refund will be provided.

Condition: Refunds will not be provided for bugs or errors originating from the purchased source code. In such cases, the client must seek resolution from the company from which the code was originally purchased.

By availing of our services, the client fully agrees to these terms and conditions.
